

Tiivi Liibert

I started with entrepreneurship when I felt that I need self-fulfilment.

I have constantly supplemented my knowledge and can now apply this in my business. I had doubts about my decision, which required a total reorganization of my life. Still, I decided to trust my feminine instincts and to accept the new challenges.

As a medical worker, I often came in contact with people suffering from allergies. It is known from folk wisdom, and newer medical research confirms this, that goat's milk is very useful against illness, and helps to relieve allergic symptoms. I decided to start dealing with the products of goat breeding.

Goat's milk itself has a short shelf life, but a variety of products can be prepared from it – cheese, butter, etc.

For external use, I prepare therapeutic butters based on goat butter.

I plan to expand and diversify the products. For this, however, the amount of raw milk must be increased. This can be achieved by enlarging the herd and improving the breed.

Today, one must constantly deal with studying. FEM helps with this and encourages one not to be afraid of risks.

Welcome are business contacts both from home and abroad, and the exchange of experiences.

I am married. I have raised two children.

My family and its welfare are personally the most important for me.
